PROPOSALS
For Publishing, by Subscription,
THE COMPLETE WORKS OF
SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume 1 will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.
SATURDAY AFTERNOON, SEPT. 21, 1833.

Our Rivers.—The recent rains have produced a very considerable rise in the Ohio; there is quite a bustle on our wharf, several steam boats are taking in lading, and will depart for their different destinations to morrow.

Canal Commissioners.—In yesterday's paper, we stated that Gen. M'Coy had departed from Newcastle to examine the rout of the proposed Junction Canal to Akron. It will be perceived, by an extract from the Beaver Republican, that Mr. Clarke has taken the same course.

☞The delegates to the Greensboro' Convention are requested to meet at George Beale's, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

Publication of Accounts of Crimes, Accidents, &c.—The following article contains some sensible remarks, in relation to the display of religious rites at the time and place of execution of notorious and cold blooded murders, for these we republish it.—The ground assumed, in defence of newspapers giving publicity to crimes, &c., is not, we think, tenable.

There is, we think, a fallacy in the assumption, that "a newspaper is a mirror which must give back deformities as well as beauties." We do not see the propriety of considering it as a "mirror," nor the necessity, even if it were, of its giving back "deformities."

It would perhaps be better, and more correct, to consider a newspaper as a schoolmaster, bound to give publicity only to those matters which tend to inform the mind, or improve the heart. A newspaper, conducted strictly upon these principles, would be truly useful. The publication of accounts of crimes is done, we think, usually in compliance with a morbid appetite for such matters—at least, judging from our own feelings, in selecting such matters, which we do, sometimes, but as seldom as we safely can; we feel that we are yielding to the wishes of many readers, and not that we are performing a duty, by reflecting back deformities.—The remarks, in relation to private executions, are sound and philosophical, and we trust that it will not be long until Pennsylvania makes this a part of her penal code.

"We have another correspondent to day, from one of the most flourishing towns in the interior of the State, objecting to the publicity given in the newspapers to crimes, accidents, &c., and especially the glorification of felons on the scaffold. We have already stated our reasons for thinking a brief notice of such occurrences, as this letter objects to, indispensable to the fidelity of the impression which it is the business of a newspaper to convey, of passing life. A newspaper is a mirror, which must give back deformities as well as beauties, without exaggerating either. It might be more agreeable, in looking in such a glass, to find nothing unbecoming or shocking; but while the nature of man remains unchanged, no such gratification can be reasonably anticipated. On the other hand, we entirely agree with our correspondent that the details with which the conduct and appearance of the vilest felons, on their trial, are related—the dramatic interest with which it is attempted to invest the last moments of coarse and cold blooded ruffians—and the profanation of religious rites—for so it seems to us—at the fatal tree, are productive of unqualified evil.—In England, where the morbid curiosity for such revolting particulars, is even greater than here, and where, consequently, the public press is still more lavish than ours in ascertaining and inventing them, there is yet that respect for religion which forbids its desecration by such scenes as public executions in this country sometimes exhibit. All the consolations of prayer, all the aids of religious hope and trust, are invoked in private, either in the cell of the convict, or in the chapel of the prison; but there is no singing hymns before an assembled multitude, no blasphemous rhapsodies at the foot of the gallows, no public exhibition. The criminal appears on the scaffold, and in a moment he has ceased to live. In this State executions are now required to be private; and this, we are persuaded, is both an aggravation, even of the punishment of death, and is, moreover, of greater moral effect. But we are writing a dissertation, when we only intended to make a passing remark."

Beaver County.—While, in most other parts of this State, the approaching election seems to be viewed almost with indifference, the utmost excitement and activity prevails in this truly interesting county. This is probably, in part, owing to the fact that Beaver and Butler counties have, in conjunction, to elect a Senator.

It is highly desirable that Beaver should be well represented in the ensuing session of the Legislature, as there is no doubt that a vigorous effort will be made to get something done towards the junction of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Canals.

We observe that Gen. Lacock is a candidate for the House of Representatives of this State. We entertain no doubt that the yeomanry of Beaver county, who have always been characterized by sound good sense and judgment, will, once more, elect this gentleman, whose experience, and knowledge, and influence, would be very useful at this interesting crisis. By the election of such men as General Lacock, Beaver county will honor herself and benefit the country.

COMMUNICATED.

☞Accidents.—A stage driver, about 12 o'clock, to day, in turning the corner of Liberty and Irwin streets, ran over a little girl, 8 or 10 years of age, the daughter of Mr. James Murphy, breaking her leg and bruising her so much that it is expected to terminate fatally. The stage driver is committed to prison to await his trial.

About ten o'clock, this morning, as a gentleman, from the country, was suddenly reining his horse, the animal reared and fell, causing its almost instantaneous death. The rider was little injured, but loses a valuable horse. Both these accidents were, no doubt, occasioned by want of care.

The Richmond Enquirer is, it appears, willing to have the Constitution amended, so that in case a President should not be elected by the people, on the first trial, the two highest candidates should be sent to them for re-election. Be it so. The Washington Telegraph lately made a similar proposition, and it is understood, as we have mentioned before, that such an amendment to the Constitution will be proposed to the next Congress.—Phil. Inquirer.

FROM ENGLAND.

The packet ship Sovereign, Capt, Kearney, has arrived at this port—bringing, as we are informed, a Portsmouth paper of the 12th ultimo. She also brings papers and letters to us—but nothing later than the annexed letter from our London Correspondent, and the papers of the same evening.

London, Friday Evening, Aug. 9th.

"It is understood to day, in the city, on very good authority, that at an interview which took place this morning between Lord Althorp and the Governor, and Deputy Governor of the Bank, it was intimated to the latter, that the clause restricting the number of partners in banks of deposit within 65 miles of London, cannot be persevered in; and that the directors must either take the proposed charter without that clause, or forego it altogether. There is not much doubt here which way the directors will decide: and it has indeed been stated that the directors have signified their assent to the modification of the charter which Lord Althorp has required of them. It is added that a court of proprietors of bank stock will be immediately convened to lay before them the situation of their affairs, and obtain their assent also to the alteration.

"It is Lord Althorp's intention that in the event of any joint stock banks being formed for the purpose of deposits, they shall not be allowed to draw bills, and all partners in them will be rendered liable to the whole extent of their property."

Madrid, 29th July.—(From our private correspondent)—"No decisive step has been taken regarding the modifications in the cabinet, which my last letter may have prepared you to expect. Nor has any formal decision been taken on the question of an intervention in the affairs of Portugal. It is nevertheless certain, that, against the representations of M. de Ofalia, and in conformity with those of M. de Zea, and Mr. de Grijalba, the King's Secretary, orders were given last week that the army of observation on the frontiers of Portugal should be considerably reinforced.

"The Queen appears to have regained her ascendency over the mind of the King. His Majesty was last week again severely indisposed. He had a violent pain in his side, which gave some uneasiness; and the Queen, who was constantly at his side, was again able to exercise her former influence. Reports have, in consequence, been circulated of intended changes in the administration. It was said that the Duke de San Fernando would be made Prime Minister, and that the department of Foreign Affairs would be joined to his other official attributes. The duke de Florida Blanca is to have the Home Department, and General Amarillas that of War. As it was thought that the King's illness would be of sufficient duration to make it necessary once more that the Queen should act as Regent, it was proposed that the exercise of the Regency by her, however short, should be turned to the advantage of the liberal interest, at least in a moderate way. Some concessions were to be made to the liberal party, and Donna Maria was to be acknowledged as the legitimate Sovereign of Portugal."

From the Journal of Commerce.

Madrid, July 29.—Intelligence of the capture of Lisbon, by the troops of Don Pedro, was received by this Government yesterday. On the night of the same day, Mr. Addington, after a conference with M. Zea, sent off a courier with despatches for his government. Up to that date we had been kept entirely in the dark as to the progress of Count Villa Flor in the Algarves. The inference naturally drawn from the silence of the Madrid Gazette on the subject was that the arms of Don Pedro in that quarter were not less successful by land than they had been by sea. An account of this occurrence is expected to appear in that paper to morrow; and when the issue of this long pending contest shall be generally known here, a strong sensation is likely to be produced; for as the prospects of this country depend in a great measure on the state of things in Portugal, the downfall of Don Miguel must raise the hopes of the more liberal class of Spaniards in the same degree as it will embarrass the views of the Apostolicals.

Frankfort, July 31.—A vast plan of defence has been drawn up by Russia, and presented to Sultan Mahmoud, and which has been already in part, carried into effect. The Emperor Nicholas has placed at the disposal of the Sultan, officers, engineers, sappers, and carpenters. The fortifications of the Dardanelles have been strengthened, the batteries finished, heavy cannon from the Russian men of war, have been given to the Sultan to arm Sultanich Kalessi. Those points of the Asiatic coast which might be most exposed to attacks by Mehemed Ali were also to be put in a state of defence with the assistance of the Russians. To protect the Sultan against internal enemies, the accesses to the capital are to be fortified, and Constantinople will be surrounded with citadels.—Brussels paper, Aug. 6.

London, August 10.

The reported insurrection in Switzerland which yesterday produced a sensation on 'Change, turns out to have been a renewal of hostilities which, during the last two or three years, have existed between the inhabitants of the city and those of the country of Basle. It appears that their honors, the Bourgeois, planned an incursion into the canton by a rout through the wood, and that the Chopsticks, aided by the poor Polish refugees, to whom they had afforded shelter, and with whom they had divided their bread, formed an ambuscade, and so peppered the citizens and burgesses, that they fled incontinently, leaving two pieces of artillery in the hands of the conquerors. This affair, as well as that of the canton of Schweitz, now also going on, are well worth scanning closely. They are ascribed to Austrian interference. A civil war in the Swiss confederation is said to be a favorite project of Prince Metternich, because it would appear to call for Austrian intervention, and would place the strong holds of Switzerland in the hands of one of the deadliest enemies of France and of freedom.

Count Orloff arrived at Odessa on the 16th July, and the Russian troops have actually, at length, quitted the Sultan's dominions.

It is quite true, as insinuated by a Tory contemporary, that Ministers are endeavoring to bring about an arrangement for the return of Don Pedro to the Brazils. There have already been several conferences between M. Talleyrand and Lord Palmerston on this subject.

Galignani's Messenger mentions that a report was in circulation that France and England had received a communication from the Cabinet of Madrid (couched in the same terms,) by which Spain calls upon these two powers, who have shown themselves the protectors of Donna Maria, to give a formal guarantee against the spirit of propagandism, otherwise she will feel herself compelled to interfere in the quarrel between the two princes.

The Liberia Herald of July 15, says:—"We are sorry to hear of the decease of King Tom Bassa, and fear from the unsettled state of the country, and the many candidates for his seat, that our region of Gold, (Camwood) is about to become the scene of civil commotion. There are three principal candidates, King Yellow Will, of L. Bassa, a descendant of the old King before Tom Bassa, and our friend Barga, the chief mate of the deceased. By this, we perceive the elective franchise is exercised even in Africa."

He tells these Fish Stories:—

"During our short absence from this town, two very singular fish were taken by our fishermen.—One was 8 feet long; 25 inches wide, and 15 inches thick, and weighed 690 lbs. the other was, 7 feet in length, 18 inches in breadth and 9 inches in thickness, and weighed 175 lbs. They were regularly skinned and sold in market, and soon the name of river hog was affixed to them, from the great resemblance of their harslet to a hog's: as well as their flesh which bore the appearance of fat pork—a thought has since struck us, that this fish may be a species of the Sturgeon—but having no book of reference, we must leave the matter undecided.

"Since penning the above article, we have learned that these fish were taken in a seine by J. Woodland and others in the Messurado river: that their skins were of a dark slate color, and of considerable thickness, viz: 1-2 inch, that their flesh resembled fat pork, and tasted like it—that they had mouths like a hog, and a set of molar teeth, but their snouts were somewhat broader and well fitted to root in the mud. They had also two large laternal fins and no dorsal, with tails horizontal.—We conceive the name bestowed on them by our citizens, not altogether inappropriate; and our only regret is, that we were absent at the time; as owing to the sickness of Governor Mechlin, no steps were taken to preserve their heads and skins for the examination of scientific friends in America."

September is a memorable month in American Annals.

Sept. 1, 1774, the first General Congress met at Philadelphia.

Sept. 1, 1814, the Avon taken by the Wasp.

1 to 4, 1804, Tripoli was attacked by an American squadron. Lieut's J. Decatur, Caldwell, Wardsworth, Somers, &c. were killed in the battle.

Sept. 5, 1813, British brig Boxer captured by the U. States brig Enterprize. Both commanding officers, (William Burrows and Samuel Blythe,) were killed, and buried at Portland with the honors of war.

Sept. 5, 1492, America discovered by Columbus.

10, 1813, Perry's victory on Lake Erie.

10, 1783, Definitive Peace of Independence between Great Britain and the United States.

Sept. 11, 1814, British squadron taken on Lake Champlain, by the American squadron, under Commodore Macdonough. Defeat of the enemy at Plattsburgh.

Sept. 12, 1814, defeat of the enemy at Baltimore.

17, 1787, Federal Constitution completed by the Convention at Philadelphia.

DANIEL WEBSTER.

Col. Hamilton, in his "Men and Manners," gives the following sketch of this distinguished statesman:—

"The person who has succeeded in riveting most strongly the attention of the whole Union, is undoubtedly Mr. Webster. From the Gulf of St. Lawrence to that of Mexico, from Cape Sable to Lake Superior, his name has become, as it were, a household word. Many disapprove his politics, but none deny his great talents, his unrivalled fertility of argument, or his power, even still more remarkable, of rapid and comprehensive induction. In short, it is universally believed by his countrymen, that Mr. Webster is a great man; and in this matter I certainly make no pretensions to singularity of creed. Mr. Webster is a man of whom any country might well be proud. His knowledge is at once extensive and minute; his intellectual resources very great; and whatever may be the subject of discussion, he is sure to shed on it the light of an active, acute, and powerful mind.

I confess, however, I did meet Mr. Webster under the influence of some prejudice. From the very day of my arrival in the United States, I had been made involuntarily familiar with his name and pretensions. Gentlemen sent me his speeches to read. When I talked of visiting Boston, the observation uniformly followed, "Ah! there you will see Mr. Webster." When I reached Boston, I encountered condolence on all hands. "You are very unfortunate," said my friends, "Mr. Webster set out yesterday for Washington."—Whenever at Philadelphia and Baltimore, it became known that I had visited Boston, the question, "Did you see Mr. Webster?" was a sequence as constant and unvarying as that of the seasons.

The result of all this was, that the name of Webster became invested in my ear with an adventitious cacophony. It is not pleasant to admire upon compulsion, and the very pre-eminence of this gentleman had been converted into something of a bore. To Washington, however, I came, armed with letters to the unconscious source of my annoyance. The first night of my arrival, I met him at a ball. A dozen people pointed him out to my observation, and the first glance riveted my attention. I had never seen any countenance more expressive of intellectual power.

The forehead of Mr. Webster is high, broad, and advancing. The cavity beneath the eye brow is remarkably large. The eye is deeply set, but full, dark, and penetrating in the highest degree; the nose prominent, and well defined; the mouth marked by that rigid compression of the lips by which the New Englanders are distinguished.—When Mr. Webster's countenance is in repose, its expression struck me as cold and forbidding, but in conversation it lightens up; and when he smiles, the whole impression it communicates is at once changed. His voice is clear, sharp, and firm, without much variety of modulation; but, when animated, it rings on the ear like a clarion.

As an orator, I should imagine Mr. Webster's forte to lie in the department of pure reason; I cannot conceive his even attempting an appeal to the feelings. It could not even be successful; and he has too much knowledge of his own powers to encounter failure. In debate, his very countenance must tell. Few men would hazard a voluntary sophism under the glance of that eye, so cold, so keen, so penetrating, so expressive of intellectual power. A single look would be enough to wither up a whole volume of bad logic.

In the Senate, I had, unfortunately, no opportunity of hearing Mr. Webster display his great powers as a debater. During my stay the subjects on which he happened to speak were altogether of inferior interest. In the Supreme Court he delivered several legal arguments which certainly struck me as admirable, both in regard to matter and manner. The latter was neither vehement nor subdued. It was the manner of conscious power, tranquil and self possessed.

Mr. Webster may be at once acquitted of all participation in the besetting sins of the orators of his age and country. I even doubt, whether, in any single instance, he can be fairly charged with having uttered a sentence of mere declamation. His speeches have nothing about them of gaudiness and glitter. Words with him are instruments, not ends; the vehicles, not of sound merely, but of sense and reason. He utters no periods full of noise and fury, like the voice of an idiot, signifying—nothing; and it certainly exhibits proof that the taste of the Americans is not yet irretrievably depraved, when an orator like Mr. Webster, who despises all the false and petty trickery of his art, is called by acclamation to the first place.

In conversation, Mr. Webster is particularly agreeable. It seems to delight him when he mingles with his friends, to cast off the trammels of weighty cogitation, and merge the lawyer and the statesman in the companion:—a more pleasant and instructive one I have rarely known in any country. As a politician, the opinions of Mr. Webster are remarkably free from intolerance.—His knowledge is both accurate and extensive.—He is one of the few men in America who understands the British Constitution, not as a mere abstract system of laws and institutions, but in its true form and pressure, as it works and acts upon the people, modified by a thousand influences, of which his countrymen in general know nothing.

The Rivals.—Bell's London Weekly Messenger (August 4th) thinks that Don Pedro, after having established his daughter on the throne of Portugal, will return to Brazil, with his fleet, in order to regain the imperial crown. The National Gazette thinks, since Don Pedro is something of a Quixote, that this may happen; but no throne, the editor adds, can endure on our continent. As for Don Miguel, it seems to be conceded, on all hands, that his game of royalty is rapidly drawing to a close; and, if report speaks true, we may shortly expect our peaceful shore to be favored with another royal exile, to spend the loose change he may have laid aside, among us. We have our information from an officer of Miguel, who has been thus advised.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

Population of France.—In 1751, the population was 18,000,107; in 1820, above 30,000,000; and in 1832, 32,560,943. In 1698, the total income of the country was 40,800,000*l.*; in 1780, 160,440,000*l.*; in 1790, 186,200,000*l.*; in 1810, 250,800,000*l.*; in 1820, 294,380,000*l.*; and in 1830, 352,000,000*l.*; At the present moment, after deducting the rates and taxes, it is estimated at 264,000,000*l.*. In the beginning of the present century, the country was taxed 23,560,000*l.*; under Charles X., in 1829, 41,218,000*l.*; and, under the cheap government of Louis Phillippe, by the grace of barricades, his "Most Citizen Majesty," 46,400,000*l.*

The population of London, in 1750, was 676,250; in 1801, 900,000, and now, with the suburbs, it amounts to a million and a half.

Dinner to Mr. Rives, at Lewisburgh, Virginia.—An interesting fact is narrated in the Lynchburgh Virginian. Mr. Trist, one of the company, in proposing a toast, referred to the "Force Bill," proposed by Mr. Giles, and approved by Mr. Jefferson, to carry the embargo into effect, against the threatened secession of the Eastern States, and quoted the following toast drunk among the regular toasts of the day at a public dinner at Richmond given to the Electors for President and Vice President of the United States, who voted for Mr. Madison. Spencer Roane, whose authority is so great in Virginia, as a politician, was one of them:—"The Union—the Majority must govern—to Secede is Treason."

South Carolina.—The following are the members of Congress elect, of South Carolina. The Charleston Courier states that they are all nullifiers, except Gen. Blair, and all thought to be opposed to the U. S. Bank, except Mr. M'Duffie:—Henry L. Pinckney,* Dr. Thos. D. Singleton,* William K. Clowney,* Gen. James Blair, George M'Duffie, John K. Griffin, John M. Felder, Warren R. Davis.—Baltimore American.

* New Members.

The Vice President, accompanied by Mr. Washington Irving, left Albany on Wednesday morning, on a tour through the Dutch counties of the state—with the intention, as we learn from that attentive chronicler of the movements of "Great Men"—the Albany Argus—of extending their travels through Long Island. There is a cave in the vicinity of Hallett's Cove, which was the head quarters of the celebrated Smuggler, "Ready Money Provost," during, and after the revolutionary war. We recommend the exploration of this cave to the Vice President, since it is likely he might there find "the lost rights of the states," of which he promised to go in search a few years since.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

At the request of the Canal Commissioners of Kentucky, who sent on a special messenger to solicit him to accept of the appointment, our distinguished fellow citizen, Gen. Lacock, has consented to superintend the location of a Lock and Canal navigation on Green river, in that State, which empties into the Ohio about 250 miles below Louisville. This high compliment to Gen. Lacock must be gratifying to every citizen of the county in which he resides, and is alike creditable to the Public authorities of Kentucky. Gen. L. starts this day, and will be absent five or six weeks.—We understand that Mr. M. R. Stealey, an Engineer on the Beaver Canal, accompanies General Lacock.—Beaver Argus.

We have been disappointed in not receiving the proceedings of the meeting of the Delegates from Beaver and Butler counties, at Harmony, on Wednesday, the 11th inst., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Senator. The proceedings were to appear first in the Butler Sentinel, and reach here on or before Monday last, but have not yet arrived Whether the fault lies in the printer, or in the post office department, we are unable to say. We learn, however, that there were eight Delegates in attendance, who unanimously recommended Gen. JOHN A. SCROGS to the citizens of the district as a candidate for Senator.—Beaver Argus.

The Globe denies the authorship of the paragraph going the rounds in the papers, and which was published by us on Friday last, stating as a fact, that the majority of the last Congress was bribed or retained by the U. S. Bank.

It was the invention it seems of a Boston paper. But are we to understand the Globe as denying also the publication of the article from the Boston papers, of which this was a part? If not, we see little difference in the responsibility between inventing, and propagating so infamous a slander. N. Y. Amer.

The Cotton Crop.—Extract of a letter, received at Charleston, dated Augusta, (Geo.) Sept. 6.

"Our streets are literally crowded with cotton to day. It is judged by many, there is to day 350 bales, all new. The sales commenced this morning at 18 cents for prime, and closed at 16—only 3 loads sold at the former price. We expect to morrow 2 to 300 bales, and on Monday 500—down the article will go—Look out—River low—Business brisk."

The imputation, that "the MAJORITY in the last Congress, favorable to the Bank, was made up of BRIBED members," attributed to the Government paper in Washington, it appears did not originate there, but in the Government paper at Boston.—Balt. Pat., Sept. 16.

Effects of Cold Water.—Pouring cold water in a continued stream upon the head is one of the most effectual remedies in most cases of nervous or convulsive diseases. In histeria, epilepsy, cholera, delirium tremens, and catalepsy, it has been employed with the most decided success, as well as in convulsions of children from teething.

The bill appropriating a sum of money for the prosecution of the Thames Tunnel, has passed the British Parliament, so that this magnificent undertaking will probably be completed.

Connection with Lake Erie.—We are gratified to learn that the canal commissioners are turning their attention to this highly important subject, and are now engaged in a personal examination of the routs above mentioned. After completing their examination of the Beaver Division, the Board separated at New Castle, Mr. Mitchell intending to go up the Shenango rout to Coneaut Lake. Mr. Clarke and General M'Coy will pass up the valley of the Mahoning to the Portage Summit, where it is proposed to connect the Pennsylvania with the Ohio Canal, and thence proceed to Coneaut Lake, on the rout of the Pennsylvania Canal from this place to Erie. This personal examination will enable them to report facts, from actual observation, should they be called upon to do so by the legislature.—Beaver Repub.

At the late Sessions for this county, Robert B. Cooly, a colored man, charged with the murder of Paris Moore, was found guilty of murder, in the second degree, and sentenced to seven years confinement in the Penitentiary at Pittsburgh.—Butler Sentinel.

The Canal.—There were, since our last, 34 arrivals at, and 41 departures from, this port.—Huntingdon Gazette, Sept. 18.

During the year 1834, there will be three eclipses, two of the moon, and one of the sun; the latter on Sunday, November 30, which in some parts of the United States will be total.

The editor of the Charleston Courier has been shown the bottom part of a broken glass bottle, very pointed and jagged, which was taken out of the stomach of an alligator, recently caught near that place. The points and edges of the glass were worn quite smooth, while the polish of the outer sur face had entirely disappeared.

The Turkish territories are offically announced to be freed from the presence of the Russian forces.

Sept. 10, 1833.

DOCTOR J. B. ROSE,
DENTIST,
(LATE OF REGENT STREET, LONDON,)

RESPECTFULLY informs the inhabitants of Pittsburgh and its vicinity, that he has taken an office, No. 80 Third street, next door to Dr. Burrell, where he performs all operations on the Teeth and Gums, in a style not to be surpassed.

☞ Natural and Artificial Teeth set in the best manner, and at the most reasonable charges.—Also—Porcelain Teeth, from a single one to a whole set.

On the first appearance of Tarter or Scurvy, Teeth should always be cleansed, as the corrosion of the tarter will, in a short time, reach the roots of the Teeth, and they will eventually fall out—when, by attending to them in season, they might be restored, at a trifling expense, to their original beauty.

The operation of Plugging and Filing the Teeth, when decayed, is so truly important that it is impossible to recommend it too earnestly to the attention of the public. Thousands of the most useful Teeth, which otherwise, on account of their painfulness, would be sacrificed by extraction, may thus be preserved for many years. Doctor R., convinced that he can render benefits beyond all price to those who need his assistance, will wait upon families at their residence, if requested, and Teeth brought to a Pearl White at one sitting.

☞ As Dr. R. intends to remain in town but a short time, as early a call as convenient is advisable.

Dr. R. has for sale the British Antisceptic Dentrifice. This elegant Tooth Wash, with a very little use, eradicates the Scurvy in Gums, and prevents the accumulation of Tarter, which not only blackens, but loosens the Teeth, and accelerates their decay; removes the causes of offensive breath, preserves the healthiness of the Gums, and renders the Teeth beautifully white. Price 50 cents per Bottle.

SHERIFF'S SALE.
PHŒNIX BREWERY, AT KENSINGTON,
PITTSBURGH.

BY virtue of a writ of Levari Facias, issued out of the court of Common Pleas of Allegheny county, and to me directed, will be exposed to sale on Saturday, the 12th of October next, at 10 o'clock, at the Court House, in the city of Pittsburgh, the following described property, to wit:

The following contiguous lots, or pieces of ground, situate in Pitt township, Allegheny county, being part of out lot No. 8, in the manor of Pittsburgh: one of said Lots beginning on the south side of the great road, or extension of second Street, and thence running Beale's and Wade's lots, southwardly, down to the corner of Williams' and Redmond's lots, so as to include the spring house, thence by said Williams' and Redmond's lot westwardly, a parallel line with said road sixty feet, thence northwardly a parallel line with the first line to the road aforesaid, and thence by the same eastwardly, sixty feet, to the place of beginning; with the following piece attached to it, and being part of the same, viz: Being twelve feet wide, and extending from the said lot westwardly to a thirty feet street, which runs between Thomas Greenough's and Edward Encell's houses, adjoining Williams' and Redmond's line: the whole being subject to a yearly ground rent of seventy two dollars.

ALSO---One other of the said lots or pieces of ground, beginning at the south east corner of Thos. Greenough's spring house, and running westwardly by the south wall of the said spring house, and containing, in a straight line, one hundred and forty two feet or thereabouts, to a locust post, thence southwardly, in a direct line with the end of Thos. Greenough's dwelling house, fourteen feet, thence westwardly a parallel line with the said dwelling house about twenty seven feet to a street which runs between Greenough's and Encell's heirs, from the great road to the Monongahela river, thence along the east side of said street to the said river, thence up the said river to a post, where a line drawn in a range with the east wall of said spring house would strike said river, and thence by the said line northwardly to the place of beginning: subject to a yearly ground rent of forty dollars. On which are erected a Brewery, Malt House, and the necessary offices, shops, and dwelling houses; the same being generally known by the name of 'Phœnix Brewery, in Kensington,' Pittsburgh.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of Samuel Dunn and Wm. O'Neil, at the suit of Henry Holdship, and to be sold by me,

WILLIAM LECKY,
Sheriff of Allegheny Co. Pa.

The above Brewery was in successful operation during the last year, and every thing attached to it, and necessary, is now in good repair.

☞Baltimore American, Philada. National Gazette, and New York American, will insert twice a week, three weeks, mark cost, and charge this office.

PERIODICALS.

AMERICAN RAILROAD JOURNAL, and Advocate of Internal Improvements, which is designed as a repository of the accounts of the rise and progress of numerous works of Internal Improvement, in the United States particularly, and in other parts of the world generally. The work is published weekly, and forms a large octavo volume each year, of 832 pages of 3 columns each, for $3 per annum, in advance.

New York Farmer, and American Gardener's Magazine. This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Published in monthly parts of 32 large octavo pages, with three columns each, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States---In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

SATIN BEAVER
HAT MANUFACTORY,
NO. 6 ST. CLAIR STREET,
PITTSBURGH.

WILSON & SMITH, from N. York,

RESPECTFULLY inform the citizens of Pittsburgh and the neighboring towns, that they have commenced the manufacture of the above beautiful and elegant article, so much admired and worn throughout Europe, and the principal cities in the United States.

W. & S. beg leave to observe, that, after various experiments, they have at last succeeded in bringing this Hat to the highest state of perfection, and they can assert, with confidence, that in point of color, lightness, elasticity, durability, and general beauty of appearance, they cannot be surpassed by the most expensive Hat that is made. Gentlemen are invited to call and examine them, and judge for themselves.

Wholesale Dealers supplied at the same prices as in the New York markets.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM. ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,
From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.
UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞ A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

To a person wishing to embark in a manufacturing business, and possessing capital, this would be a very desirable situation, having the advantage of both water power from Pigeon creek, and banks of the very best coal near to the works, and easy of access, and its vicinity to so navigable a river, where articles of any kind are so cheaply transported to Pittsburgh.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.

TRAVELLERS.

THE LINE OF STAGES between Chambersburgh and Baltimore, on the Somerset and Mountpleasant route, has been doubled, and now runs DAILY, (Mondays excepted,) leaving Chambersburgh at day-light in the morning, and arriving in Baltimore, early the same evening.

Passengers reach Philadelphia, in this way, the second afternoon, from Chambersburgh, without the loss of any rest; taking the splendid STEAM BOAT LINES, which set out at 6 o'clock in the morning, [via CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL, a work well worth the trip to see.]

REESIDE, Owner.

In all cases where the passengers desire to reach Baltimore in time for the 5 o'clock steam-boat to Philadelphia, they can do so by leaving Chambersburgh at one o'clock in the morning, or immediately after the arrival of the Western Mail Stage. In this way, they arrive in Philadelphia, by eight o'clock the second morning, from Chambersburgh.

☞ When a load offers, the stage will run on Mondays. April 23, 1830.—tf.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.
